

Briar Rabbit Reviews:

"The singer Songwriter has a knack for Getting in touch with his audience through sincere lyrics that capture just how you're Feeling, be it your best (or worst) Day." - Jeff Milo, The Detroit Free Press

"A clever and heartfelt lyricist, Rabbit's sometimes-painful honesty seems genuine, which salvages it from becoming over-earnest oversharing." - Julia Leconte, Now Toronto

"Hailing from Chicago, singer-songwriter Briar Rabbit's quippy lyric-heavy folk pop – or, as he's come to call it, thought pop – has been winning over critics and music blogs one by one for years." - The Globe and Mail

"He has just released his latest album, “From Your Bones,” which is as literate and soulful a pop album as its predecessors." - Jessica Hopper, Chicago Tribune

"On his newest album, From Your Bones, Rabbit bounces between tall tales and biographical stories while a folk-pop band churns up some rootsy, rollicking noise in the background. “So Long” is the first single, which we’re happy to premiere. Get ready for story time, folks." - Andrew Leahey, American Songwriter
